

RIEL LTD.

Your partner in security

Riel is a team of 50+ professionals who dedicate their talents to give you the best possible overall customer experience.

We're a wholesale company that offers more than just security products: we think in terms of solutions for your specific project.

Each product has been thoroughly tested by our engineers, who offer technical support whenever you're stuck or have questions.

Every project starts at the drawing board. We can offer help at this stage already in order to make sure that you select the right tools for the task at hand.

We have a top-class brand-independent repair center.

As a client you will have a dedicated contact person in the company who can help with your requests.

A stock level of €1.5M means that we can fulfill 90% of orders the same day. Even for complex projects.

Does this sound too good to be true? Try it for yourself!
